

The University of Jordan Alumni Newsletter

11-12/2024 - 01/2025

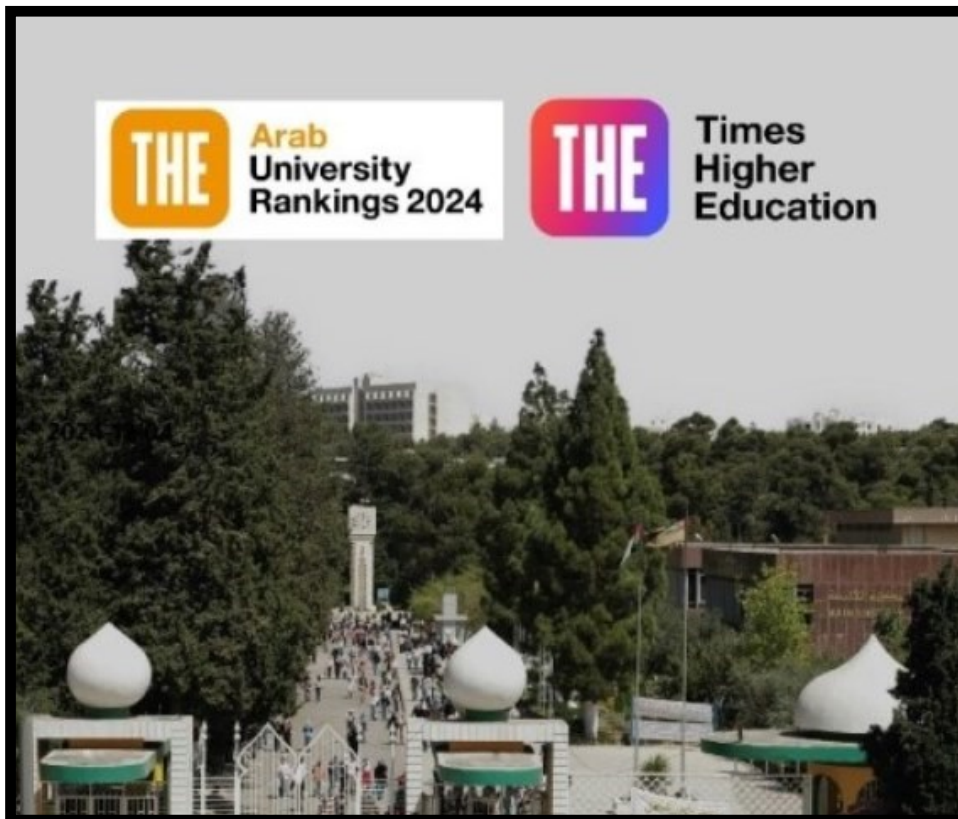

The University of Jordan Awards Honorary Doctorate Borrell

Education Policy, Foreign Relations, and the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research. The university has a long history of excellence in research and innovation, and it is proud to be a member of the Arab League and the Organization of Islamic Cooperation. The university is also a member of the Arab League of Universities and the Arab League of Academics. The university is committed to providing a high-quality education and to promoting research and innovation in the fields of science, technology, and the arts. The university is also committed to promoting the development of the Arab world and to promoting the values of peace, justice, and democracy.

UJ Ranks among Top Ten Arab Universities in THE Arab University Rankings 2024

The University of Jordan (UJ) has been ranked among the top ten Arab universities in the Times Higher Education (THE) Arab University Rankings 2024. This is a significant achievement for the university, which has consistently been recognized for its high quality of education and research. The ranking is based on a range of factors, including the university's academic performance, research output, and internationalization efforts. The university is proud to be recognized as one of the leading universities in the Arab world and is committed to continuing its efforts to provide a high-quality education and to promote research and innovation in the fields of science, technology, and the arts.

Read More

UJ wins best student recruitment of the year at THE university awards 2024

The University of Jordan (UJ) has won the award for best student recruitment of the year at the Times Higher Education (THE) University Awards 2024. This is a significant achievement for the university, which has consistently been recognized for its high quality of education and research. The award is based on a range of factors, including the university's student recruitment efforts, its internationalization efforts, and its commitment to providing a high-quality education. The university is proud to be recognized as one of the leading universities in the Arab world and is committed to continuing its efforts to provide a high-quality education and to promote research and innovation in the fields of science, technology, and the arts.

King Bestows Silver Jubilee Medal on Professor Ahram

A UJ alumnus and NAS Intelligence Officer delivered a lecture on the future of AI. The lecture was held at the NAS Intelligence Center and was attended by a large number of students and faculty members. The speaker discussed the latest developments in AI and its potential applications in various fields, including healthcare, education, and the environment. He also discussed the challenges and opportunities associated with the use of AI and the need for responsible AI development and deployment.

Read More

UJ's International Heritage Exhibition Reflects Cultural Civilizational Convergence

Alumni of the Month

Nida S. Abu Rumman, Director of Security Architecture at Microsoft

I started my journey in the IT sector in Washington DC after I could not find opportunities to leverage my Chemical Engineering Degree. The transition was very easy for me as I had a solid scientific education, an MBA from the American University at Cairo with focus on information technology, and a curious interest in all things information technology. When I moved to the DC area in 1994, I built my career over the years in the IT sector in the United States and became recognized as an instrumental IT leader with known expertise in driving global and national cybersecurity and operational resilience regulatory efforts in the United States. In 2022, I joined Microsoft as the Director of Security Architecture. I lead key aspects of Microsoft security including: Third Party, Artificial Intelligence, and Quantum Security. Prior to joining Microsoft, I served at the Federal Reserve System in various executive leadership roles for about 19 years. Read More.

